Former Speaker of House Says It Is Fortunate That "Lincoln" Is Produced.

By JOE G. CANNON ("UNCLE JOE")
Former Speaker of the United States House

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Men who lived and played a part in the stirring events of the early days of our nation's history are now being brought back to life in a new play, "Lincoln," which is being produced at the New York Theatre.

When I was invited to attend the initial performance in Washington of Mr. Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," I confess that I accepted the invitation with some hesitancy.

I had known Abraham Lincoln. I had seen him many times, and I had heard him many times. I had seen him in the flesh, and I had heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

But I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him. I had never seen him in the flesh, and I had never heard him in the voice of the actor who portrayed him.

Bedtime Stories For The Little Ones

UNCLE WIGGLY AND SUSIE'S DOLL SLEED.

By HOWARD GARIS.

ONCE, when there was no school in the hollow stump, where the lady mouse teacher taught, and when Susie Littlebottom, the rabbit girl, could stay home on account of it being Saturday, Uncle Wiggly, the bunny rabbit, and Susie, the bunny rabbit, were sitting on the stump.

"Oh, Sammie! Won't you try to make me one?"

"I'm sorry. When I come back I'll make you one."

"Oh, dear! I wonder how I can get one now. I'm so tired. I'll just keep still here, behind the door, and see what he wants. Sammie, the rabbit boy, got on his cap and mittens and hopped over the snow covered fields and through the woods to have some fun with his friends as fast as Uncle Wiggly's asked.

"Wait a minute, Sammie," the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she came in to dust the goldfish. "You look sad."

"Yes, I am," said Sammie. "I want something and I can't have it. Why don't you ask Uncle Wiggly? He'll get it for me."

"Yes, I know, Sammie, but I don't like to bother Uncle Wiggly. He's so busy. He'll get it for me."

"I'll try, Sammie. He must be there."

"Oh, I think not," said Sammie. "But what if it is you, Sammie, and perhaps I could just give him a gentle nudge?"

"Well, I want a sled for my doll," said the rabbit girl. "Lulu and Alice Whitebottom, the duck girls, each have a doll sled, and I don't see why I can't have one. I don't see why I can't have one."

"I'll try, Sammie. He must be there."

"Oh, I think not," said Sammie. "But what if it is you, Sammie, and perhaps I could just give him a gentle nudge?"

PERHAPS you have had a very hard day. You have been working hard, and you are now sitting down to rest. You are feeling tired, and you are looking for a way to relax.

This is all right as far as it goes. But there is something you must do first. That is, if you have any red, raw, or sore skin, you must first get it into a normal condition.

With a light rotary motion, massage from the corners of the eyes to the hair line. This will help to relax the skin and remove any tension.

After this, apply a thin layer of cold cream. This will help to keep the skin moist and prevent it from becoming dry.

Finally, take a short nap. This will help to refresh you and give you the energy you need to continue your work.

Remember, a good night's sleep is essential for a healthy and beautiful complexion.

Use plenty of cold cream and get plenty of rest. This is the secret to a beautiful complexion.
